Hello:

Thank you for reaching out.

-The mailer in question was printed well before the rescission described in the complaint. Moving forward, stickers will be placed over the endorsement in question.

- The yard signs referenced by the complainant were recycled from previous campaigns with stickers to include the sponsor ID statement so as to be in compliance with the new rules. While the sponsor ID is likely not 10% of the largest font on the sign, people are still able to see who paid for them, as noted by the complainant.

- The t-shirts referenced by the complainant were recycled from old campaigns by the people wearing them.

- The $260 donation from Lukas Irwin has been amended to include his employment info.
